Definitions

Benefit Amount

The Benefit Amount is the amount of benefits payable as shown in the Policy Schedule or Rider. The Benefit Amount ranges up to $5,000 in increments of $100. (Up to $1,000 in the case of a spouse.)

Benefit Period

The Benefit Period is the maximum number of months after the Elimination Period for which the Policyowner can be paid benefits for any one of successive periods of disability. Each new Benefit Period is subject to a new Elimination Period. For the purposes of this calculation, a month is defined as 30 days for which benefits are paid. Only the Elimination Period in effect at the time the loss commences applies.

Elimination Period

The Elimination Period is the time at the beginning of the Policyowner's period of Total Disability during which no benefits are payable. Each new Benefit Period is subject to a new Elimination Period. Only the Elimination Period in effect at the time the loss commences applies.

Activities of Daily Living (ADLs)

ADLs are used in measuring levels of personal functioning capacity. Normally, these activities are performed without assistance, allowing a person independence in everyday living. The Activities of Daily Living are:

- Maintaining continence – Controlling urination and bowel movements, including ability to use ostomy supplies or other devices such as catheters.
- Transferring – Moving between a bed and a chair or a bed and a wheelchair.
- Dressing – Putting on and taking off all necessary items of clothing.
- Toileting – Getting to and from a toilet, getting on and off a toilet and performing associated personal hygiene.
- Eating – Performing all major tasks of ingesting food.

Base Pay Earnings

Base Pay Earnings are the gross salary or wages for a Full-Time Job, not including overtime, bonuses or other incentives. If the Policyowner is self-employed, Base Pay Earnings means the business' gross income minus allowable business deductions.

Direct Personal Assistance

Direct Personal Assistance is physical assistance from another party that is required to help the Policyowner perform an ADL each time the activity is performed. The assistance is necessary because of the Policyowner's inability to perform the entire activity alone with the supports and mechanical aids that are normally available.

Full-Time Job

A Full-Time Job is one the Policyowner is scheduled to work 30 or more hours per week and 35 or more weeks per year for Base Pay Earnings.

Totally Disabled (Total Disability)

Total Disability is the continuing inability of the Insured Person to perform the material and substantial duties of a Full-Time Job which results in a reduction to less than 50% of Base Pay Earnings at the time he or she became Totally Disabled . The Insured Person must also be under the care and attendance of a Physician for the condition. If the Insured Person is unable to perform the material and substantial duties of the Full-Time Job but is able to work at another job, he or she will continue to be considered Totally Disabled as long as Base Pay Earnings are less than 50% of Base Pay Earnings at the time he or she became Totally Disabled. If the Insured Person returns to work at any job and is earning 50% or more of her or his Base Pay Earnings at the time the person became Totally Disabled, he or she will no longer be considered Totally Disabled.
